Coast Dump Site Nears Final Okay

A contract with Daly City Scavenger Co. for a fill and cover dump site north of Mussel rock was tentatively approved by city council at study session Wednesday, with minor changes.

The pact will mark the conclusion of nearly two years of negotiations for a Daly City dump site.

Scavengers will purchase some 70 acres of land, 35 of which will revert to the city after 20 years. The garbage firm is paying $58,000 for the property, owned by Col. John MacReady.

The 35-acre strip which will be used for the fill and cover dump operation is located west of Coast Highway and north of Mussel Rock. Remainder of the property is not suitable for the dump operation, but had to be purchased under a "package deal," according to Al Sereni, president of the scavengers.

The rugged canyons in the 35-acre area will be filled in approximately 20 years, at which time the city will take over ownership of the land for recreation purposes.

Estimated value of the portion which will be added to the city is $25,000.

Only a few revisions were made in the contract as presented the city Wednesday. A compromise agreement was reached on public dumping, as a prohibition against such dumping was kept in the contract, while Sereni agreed to establish a rate schedule for picking up rubbish at homes.

Under the contract, Sereni

JESD GETS FUNDS FOR BASIN LAND

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees today are hopeful for a quick negotiation with builder Henry Doelger for purchase of the 18-acre Westlake basin property, after the administration was granted $204,200 in state aid for purchase of the site before the allocations board last week.

To date, neither Doelger nor the district have been able to come to terms on a set price per acre. But trustees, meeting Wednesday, were expected to set a deadline on negotiations. If an agreement fails to materialize, the district may have to resort to condemnation proceedings.

"We are confident we can negotiate a reasonable agreement," Superintendent H. Z. Weibel told THE RECORD.

Basin Plans

District plans for the site call for a kindergarten through sixth grade school with 12 classrooms, plus the district's new administration headquarters.

The state outlay of $204,200 will cover all costs of the property purchase, including appraisal, boundary surveys, et cetera. Engineers recently found the site to be "highly suitable," after probing to determine the earthquake factors and sturdiness of the soil.

Doelger's willingness to negotiate is questionable. He previously announced plans there for an exclusive 162-home subdivision, with residences starting at a minimum of $35,000.

The Westlake developer also indicated he has been offered as high as $20,000 an acre for the property. Definitely interested in the site are St. Ignatius High School officials, who are seeking a new locale for the school.

Doelger, it was learned, has spent about $195,000 developing the site, but has delayed application for city approval on the proposed subdivision pending talks with the school district.

$1400 WATER TANK FOUL-UP

Councilman Demands A Cost Report

A complete cost break-down on Daly City's 28,000 gallon wine tank that won't hold water was demanded Wednesday night by Councilman De Bernardi.

The wooden tank, which was to be used for water storage while the nearby Westlake reservoir was being repaired, was found this week to be unfit for holding a public water supply.

City Manager Howard Stites told the council that, "The public works director concludes we should waste no more time with it. We've ordered the seller to make it comply with health standards or remove it."

Stites said the city would obtain prices on a substitute tank for council review Monday.

Not Paid Yet

The manager reminded councilmen that T. E. Brown, who sold the city the tank for some $1,400, including installation, had not been paid.

Otis Calhoun, public works director, said a letter was sent from City Attorney Frank Blum this week directing Brown to pick up the tank.

"Will Brown have a suit for his labor costs for installation," inquired De Bernardi.

"I don't know that, I'd have to ask the city attorney," Calhoun answered.

"The price of the tank included erection," reminded Stites.

Councilman Del Wilson suggested another tank should be erected immediately. "Even if it does cost $4000 or $5000. Those people up there will be watering their lawns pretty soon."

No Shortage

Stites claimed there would be no shortage of water.

De Bernardi then asked for a complete break-down on the city's labor costs while the temporary tank was being erected.

Stites said the water lines which had been installed could still be tied in with a new tank. The city did bear the cost of chlorinating the tank and washing it down, however, Calhoun said.

In addition, a 24-hour watch has been maintained on the earthquake-damaged main reservoir.

De Bernardi said the council should "Do this right and do it right away."

"We can't go ahead until we've got figures on cost,' snapped Councilman Paul Hupf.

City Gives Up On Fourth Time Around

Daly City's $1400 emergency reservoir may have been fine for holding wine, but it'll never do as a temporary water storage tank.

The wooden tank was purchased last month to serve the Westlake area while the 1,600,000 gallon reservoir, cracked during the March 22 earthquake, was being repaired.

This week, for the fourth time, the 28,000 gallon tank failed to pass water purity tests, showing an unsafe bacteria count of 16, 13 over the health department maximum of three.

According to Public Works Director Otis Calhoun, the tank will have to be returned to its owners.

3 Chlorinations

The tank, formerly used for wine storage, had been chlorinated on three occasions, to no avail. "I can't figure out why the chlorine didn't destroy the organisms," said Calhoun. "The health department doesn't know either." The water would not be fit for public consumption, since the bacteria are typhus-associated organisms.

Calhoun said the only answer is the infection is impregnated in the wood and can't be removed.

He said the city would have to shop around and find another temporary tank. This is expected to delay draining and repairing of the main reservoir for several more weeks.

The tank that held the juice of the grape cost Daly City $1426.88, including some $600 for installation.

Purchase of the cistern created quite a ruckus at a coun-

Teacher's Rehiring Refused

Former Colma teacher William Bell failed to submit a requested letter of resignation to trustees by deadline time Wednesday night, so the Jefferson Elementary board unanimously voted to refuse his rehiring in the district.

Action came as trustees rehired 170 certificated personnel, granted tenure contracts to 13 teachers, okayed 10 new teachers and learned that 31 additional teachers will be hired for the 1957-58 school year.

The action on Bell's status was packaged in a resolution denying a contract to another teacher, a first year instructor, who also failed to "measure up to professional standards," according to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel.

The conclusive action on Bell, who said he intends to fight the district's action in removing him from the classroom when they learned of two morals charges against him, came despite a letter from Harry A. Fosdick, California Teachers Association represen-

GROOM, BRIDE RUSH TO HIDE: LAW DECIDES

Draftsman Rodney Septon, 26, won't have any trouble remembering his wedding day.

Key reminder will be his arrest here early Saturday morning on suspicion of drunk driving—less than 12 hours after he walked to the altar.

Sergeant Dean Wood noticed Septon's "weaving" convertible going south in the 6500 block on Mission about 2:35 o'clock. Following closely in another car and tooting her horn was the new bride.

Septon made a quick left turn into Mission Bell Motel, with Wood on his trail. The policeman said Septon couldn't quite fit his car into the garage, so Wood asked the gent to alight from the vehicle. This Septon did, but he fell back onto the car. And so the booking.

"I just got married this afternoon and I'm drunk," the San Franciscan told the sympathetic Wood. His blushing missus said Rodney probably couldn't pass a sobriety test. He didn't.

Posting $500 bond, he'll face hizzoner in court next Thursday. The honeymoon is over.

Board Gets Riled About School Delay

Fuming and demanding to know why the "long delay" on seven additional classrooms at Benjamin Franklin school, trustees Wednesday night moved to go to bid on the project at "the earliest possible moment."

Citing that eight months have passed and still the project is behind schedule, trustees Michael Callan and Hartley Appleton stirred fellow board members to action after demanding an "explanation" from architect Mario J. Ciampi.

Ciampi, backed by assistant superintendent David Shapiro, replied that the work will be on schedule if request at the state allocations board meet May 23 in Sacramento is successful. Ciampi told trustees that the "package" deal on the request (money for the classrooms and additional site acreage) undoubtedly will be ap-

They're campaigning at all levels in Brisbane on next Friday's ballot proposal to raise the school district tax rates 80 cents.

This week two tax proponents (one a trustee) invaded the Brisbane elementary school, passed out buttons to the kiddies reading, "Is my education worth three cents a day? Vote Yes on school election May 17."

The campaigners are reportedly promising the embryo voters that if they wear the pins until election day they'll each receive an ice cream cone with nuts on it.

Fledgling Students Will Embark On School Days

Next Wednesday is "K" day.

Several hundred parents, with apprehensive young fry in tow, will register their children for next fall's kindergarten sessions.

To be eligible for life's first step into formal education, a child must be five years old on or before December 2, 1957.

Other requirements: each child registered must be accompanied by his or her birth certificate; children with surnames beginning with letters A through L must register from 9 to 11:30 a.m; those with last names starting with letters M through Z, 1 to 3 p.m.

Registration will be at the following eight schools: Colma Primary, Gen. Pershing, Garden Village, Jefferson, Olympia, Westlake, Woodrow Wilson and Benjamin Franklin.

District superintendent H. Z. Weibel urges prompt sign-up by parents, pointing out that should kindergarten classes be curtailed next fall, priority will be on a "first come, first served" basis. Children registered earliest will be given first crack at the avaiable classroom space.

Kindergarten boundaries, set up for registration purposes, are re-printed below:

General Pershing — Northeast of Wellington to San Francisco boundary. Between San Jose avenue and the mountains.

Woodrow Wilson — Area bounded by the San Francisco line on the north, Junipero Serra boulevard on the west, the high school on the south, Thiers street on the south, Wellington avenue on the north.

Jefferson — South of high school to South San Francisco area. East of Sweetwood to Mission.

Colma Primary — East of Mission from Thiers to cemetery area.

Garden Village — Broadmoor and Garden Village area.

Westlake — All area east of shopping center and Junipero Serra and area surrounding Westlake school.

Olympia — Area close by Olympia school and area bounded by Alemany on the north, Skyline, Fairlawn on the south and Lynnewood on the east.

Benjamin Franklin — Immediate area of the school, Highlands and Palisades.

Experts To Report On Education

A panel of education experts, headed by Dan Dawson, specialist in elementary school administration and arithmetic, will report to parents Monday night on the progress of the local district as compared with national standards.

Dawson and his team of researchers are winding up a year-long survey here on the Jefferson Elementary School district curriculum and their report will include findings in that study.

Dawson, executive secretary for the California Elementary School Administrators association, will give a detailed accounting of the district's arithmetic teaching, and will touch on the social studies survey now nearing completion.

Following reports by Dawson and other educators, James D. MacConnell, Kent J. Russell and William R. Odell, the researchers will answer questions from the audience.

The curriculum report is being sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, which has urged all parents to attend the first-of-its-kind session.

The report will begin at 8 p.m. at the Jefferson High school auditorium.

Supt. Cites Bond Needs

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles by Superintendent Edward D. Morgan, stressing the importance of next week's (May 17) bond and state aid election in the Jefferson Union High School District).

On Friday, May 17, the registered voters of the Jefferson Union High School District will cast their ballots at a special high school bond election.

According to Peter J. Markovich, chairman of the high school bond Steering Committee, "next week's bond election is the most important election ever to be held in the history of the Jefferson Union High School District."

The two propositions to be voted upon, Proposition 1, the local bond issue in the amount of $2,900,000 and Proposition 2 granting permission for the district to borrow up to $8,000,000 from the state of California, must receive the approval of at least two-thirds of the individuals casting their ballots if the high school district is to have the necessary funds to adequately house youngsters now enrolled in the Brisbane, Bayshore, Jefferson and Laguna Salada Elementary School Districts.

No Tax Hike

The Steering Committee points out that a "YES" vote will not increase the high school bond tax that the property owners of the district are now paying.

A "NO" vote will mean the high school will remain on DOUBLE SESSIONS and within a year or two would in all probability be required to go on TRIPLE sessions.

At the present time, there are 2,000 students enrolled in our Jefferson Union High School District. Next September the enrollment will reach 2400. Three years from now the enrollment will be 3300; and seven years from this coming September enrollments will climb to the record breaking number of 6000 or more. These figures are based on children now enrolled in the elementary districts lying within the Jefferson Union High School boundaries. The May 17 bond issue MUST PASS if the local district is going to be able to adequately house these children.

Except for the voters who will be casting their ballots at the Brisbane School auditorium poll, all polls will be open on Friday, May 17 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The polls at Brisbane will be open from 1 p.m. to 7

STUDENTS WILL GIVE RESIDENTS ELECTION 'LIFT'

The individuals who have the most at stake in next week's high school bond and state aid election—Jefferson and Westmoor students—will do their utmost to make sure residents get out an vote "Yes" on both issues.

To aid the balloting process, student executive boards at both schools have decided to give vote-casters a helping hand.

Jefferson students will establish babysitting centers in Bayshore, Brisbane, Daly City (east of Junipero Serra) and Colma. They will also provide free transportation to the various polls and letters for students to take home. Westmoor's board agreed on sending letters to all parents of student body members, repeating the necessity of "yes"

Planes Too Low Overhead?

A San Francisco airport official will be summoned to the June 3 meeting of the Westlake Improvement association to explain why commercial aircraft are reportedly flying too low over Westlake and what can be done about it.

Association directors decided Monday to invite the airport official after a report from Mrs. Helen Fritzen, 50 Westridge, who first complained about the planes flying at a "dangerous" low level.

Mark Gerstle, assitant director, bureau of public service at the airport, had already agreed by letter to appear before the group and "do whatever possible" to alleviate the condition.

Gerstle said in his letter that "the noise must be accepted as the penalty of progress," but declared the planes should be at least 1000 feet above the ground when they fly over Westlake in their take-off pattern.

Housewife Disagrees

A Westlake housewife, Mrs. John Shubunka, 472 Skyline disagreed with Mrs. Fritzen's "anti-air craft" campaign in another letter to the association.

Explaining that she was a licensed pilot, Mrs. Shubunka said, "I can't feel sympathetic to Mrs. Fritzen. If she bought

Press For 2 Acre Westlake Rec Site

Immediate acquisition of a two-acre recreation site in Westlake was urged Wednesday at a joint study meeting of the council and recreation commission.

Henry Doelger, in the annexation pact made at the time the 440 acres were taken into Daly City, agreed to give the city an equipped and developed two-acre site.

Dee Van Nest, recreation director, said he and his commission would go to work immediately to designate location of the two-acre site.

In addition to the pledged two acres, the city has an option to purchase four additional Doelger acres.

The commissioners were also asked to outline locations for these recreation sites.

Mayor Joseph Verducci proposed that as soon as the sites are selected in the Doelger property, the commission should set up a meeting with George McKeon of the Zita Corporation to locate recreation areas in St. Francis Heights subdivision.

It was agreed, however, to wait until the Jefferson Elementary School district had selected its school sites on the McKeon property before locating the recreation areas. This will enable the city to work with the school district in sponsoring joint recreation programs and possibly locating recreation sites adjacent to the schools.

Council also called for an exact cost estimate on completing the War Memorial community center under one contract. Figures will be presented Monday by City Manager Howard Stites.

Commissioner Edmund Cavagnaro pleaded with the council to allocate sufficient funds next year for adequate maintenance of Marchbanks and other parks. "Marchbanks is going to the dogs", he said. "It's filthy and not being taken care of. The parks are being badly neglected."

Verducci said that the commission would have to decide in drafting its budget whether it wanted to emphasize leadership, maintenance, or capital outlay.

Firemen Dance Saturday For Widows & Orphans

The 24th anual Widows and Orphans Ball will be held Saturday night at the War Memorial community center.

While the locale and dress may be different, purpose of the annual affair has been unchanged for the past 24 years. The event is sponsored by the fire department and proceeds go into a special Widows and Orphans association fund to benefit families of deceased fire fighters.

As usual, a sizeable turnout is expected, somewhere in the neighborhood of 1500 persons, although some 5000 of the $1 tickets have been sold.

Dancing will be to the music of Howard Fredrich and his orchestra. Mayor and Mrs. Joseph Verducci will lead the grand march to open the festivities and members of the official family and their wives will make up the procession.

The ball, which has become one of the community's major annual social events, was brought about 24 years ago by

Chesterfield Blaze Damages DC Home

A fire that destroyed a chesterfield caused considerable damage just before noon Thursday at the home of Arthur Benofsky, 733 Crocker avenue.

Cause of the blaze and extent of damage in dollars were not determined at press time, according to fire captain Frank Specht.

Firemen were summoned by two neighbor girls. When they arrived, both front windows were burned out and smoke and flames were pouring from the house. A huge hole resulted in the living room floor.

No one was home when the fire started.

Entertainers from radio, television and the stage will help enhance the evening's program.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at the door Saturday.

will not be allowed to maintain a salvage operation at the dump. The city held this operation would be too unsightly.

Should Coast Highway be abandoned, access to the dump will be from Edgemar road.

Despite the fact that the refuse will be filled over each day under the proposed operation, protest is expected from Coastside residents on the grounds that the dump will damage aesthetic qualities of the Coast Highway.

The local scavengers are now dumping in South San Francisco, at a per day rate of $40.

cil meeting two weeks ago, when Councilman Micheal De Bernardi roundly criticized City Manager Howard Stites for buying the wooden tank without consulting the council.

Slow Delivery

At that time, Calhoun said his department did not attempt to secure a steel tank because delivery dates were so uncertain.

De Bernardi was in turn called down by Mayor Joseph Verducci for encroaching on matters that the mayor termed of an administrative nature.

At that time, the council withheld payment of $1426.88 for the tank, pending analysis of water samples.

Stites said the city had a guarantee on the tank and could return it should it fail to meet health standards.

But the original owner, T. E. Brown of San Leandro, a tank salesman, told THE RECORD, "That remains to be seen."

Brown said the $1426.88 included about $600 for installation and indicated that the city might have to bear this cost. "We haven't gone into it yet," he declared. "I'll have to check our records."

Within the next few days, the 25,000 registered voters who live within the boundaries of the Jefferson Union High School District will receive a notice from the County Clerk informing them as to their polling place.

Where Money Goes

The May 17 bond monies will be used by the district to construct two new high schools—one to be located in the Sharp Park area, and the second in the Linda Mar area. In addition to these projects, the second increment of the Westmoor High School, consisting of eight classrooms, four science rooms, and three shops will be constructed, and the safety features recommended by the State Fire Marshal for the will be installed. Additional work has been tentatively approved for the Jefferson High School plant — the details of which are still in the planning stage.

In addition to Markovich the following individuals are members of the high school bond Steering Committee: Stanley Brown, Mrs. Anna M. Eason, Mrs. Edward Goldkuhl, Mrs. Helen James, Raymond M. Logan, Jr., Al Rigler, J. Robert Buchanan, Mrs. John J. Eckert, Mrs. Larry D. Green, William A. Larsen, Don Williams, Mrs. M. E. Nofziger, Thomas J. Callan, Sr., Elio A. the district's application for $266,000 for purchase of a new 10-plus acre General Pershing school site until the May 23 meeting in Sacramento. Total cost of the purchase will amount to $556,000, with the district's share about $290,000, from bond money. The new Pershing will be a K-6 school with two kindergartens and 12 classrooms.

Also to be considered at the May 23 meet will be the JESD application for additional site acreage at Benjamin Franklin school and more money for seven additional classrooms there, Weibel said.

Accompanying Weibel to Sacramento were assistant superintendent David Shapiro, architect Mario J. Ciampi and engineer Ted Tronoff.

Reasons

Answering charges about the delay, Ciampi informed that plans for the classrooms had been approved earlier, but complications arising from plan changes in the special activities room, part of the package deal, has made the state take a little more time.

The "package" includes the seven rooms (critically needed), the music room, and the Ocean Shore right of way property, which is under litigation.

"I hope the state on May 23 will approve the entire project, but if they don't, the department of finance can earmark funds for the music room and additional acreage as future projects," Ciampi pointed out. "We're anxious to get going on the classrooms, and I'm sure we can go to bid almost immediately."

The board's anxiety in pressing for negotiations on school sites came up several times during Wednesday's meeting.

Challenge Site

Ray Charette, 191 Bepler, arose from the audience to challenge the district's proposal for a school on the much-sought Westlake basin. Charette questioned suitability of the site, citing the "earthquake" dangers, heavier population south of Alemany, expense and transportation problems.

Trustees responded strongly, repeating the critical need of 20-plus classrooms north of Alemany this fall, lack of other sites available in the area, and wrapping it up with engineer Joseph Kaplan's report that the basin site "is as safe as any" from the standpoint of the so-called earthquake problem.

Charette suggested that other schools be enlarged, but had no comment when Callan mentioned that the "impoverished" district is bound by state regulations for size of schools and finance.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel said population problems are so intense that this fall the district will have to move five seventh grade classes to Benjamin Franklin from east of Junipero Serra. "In order to house these youngsters at Colma intermediate, we'd have to push kids out of Colma K-6. We've got real headaches."

Quake Meet

To get a full picture of earthquake possibilities, the board will hold a special meet next Wednesday night, featuring a report by Manuel Bonilla, an engineer with the U. S. Geological Survey. Meanwhile, trustees hope to resume talks with Henry Doelger on the basin site.

Planes Too Low Overhead?

her home on a highway she wouldn't expect all the traffic to stop. Westlake is located under an airway."

Mrs. Fritzen, in a report to the board, submitted petitions containing names of 50 persons protesting the low-flying craft. She claimed that she saw one plane not more than 50 feet above the Vista Mar school site and another one hovering 250 feet over the Westlake landscape. "I have a plane over my house every two minutes," she charged. Mrs. Fritzen said it was "up to the people of Westlake" to curb the annoyance.

Explanation

Director Charles Santuccio moved that Gerstle be invited to appear before an open meeting of the board and explain the number of airline departures and arrivals over Westlake in the last six months.

A MONUMENT TO THE MANAGER

The city manager's folly is going out to pasture sometime this week.

A 28,000 gallon wooden tank, formerly a wine vat, has failed for the fourth time to pass health department standards for water purity.

Cost for the fiasco was $1400, of which the city may get $800 back.

Besides man hours spent at the temporary tank and the nearby main reservoir while installation of the tank was in progress, the city is out some 50 precious days since the March 22 earthquake which damaged the storage facility.

Two weeks ago, questioned about purchase of the wooden tank, the public works director said it was the only facility available at the time and was obtained as an expediency.

Now, some 50 days later, the council is faced with the prospect of purchasing another tank to be used for temporary water storage while the main reservoir is out of commission.

This means the new tank, if it passes purity tests, can't possibly be in use before two weeks.

Thus, the draining and repairing of Daly City's main reservoir is probably still a month in the offing.

The original owner of the ill-fated wooden tank has agreed to take back his merchandise, but it is questionable if he is going to bear the $600 cost of installation. Should he hold the city responsible, a lengthy and costly law suit could result.

Daly City's one-time wine tank still perches grotesquely atop the hills in Westlake.

It is of no utter value, but the city might leave it standing as a monument to administrative ingenuity.

A LOOK INTO 1964 SCHOOLING

The year is 1964.

Six thousand young people are attending the local high schools. They go in split shifts, one group attending from 7 to 11 a.m., the second from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the third from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

It's nothing new to them. Their predecessors for the past four years attended school in triple shifts, picking up whatever knowledge possible in this academic melee.

And before that the Jefferson High School district students attended on double sessions for four years. The students had learned to accept this assembly line school—in fact, they knew nothing else. They accepted it, but the results were tragic. Graduates had little more than a diploma to show for their four years in school. Residents of the district were paying for education but were receiving a glorified baby-sitting service.

This George Orwell-like look into the future will be a reality. A look at the statistics shows that seven years from next fall there will be 6000 high school age youngsters in the Jefferson district.

If next Friday's $2,900,000 bond issue and $8,000,000 state loan measures should fail the 6000 children will have to be housed in the Jefferson and Westmoor facilities. With 2000 youngsters, the Jefferson plant is already on double sessions. It's simple arithmetic to foresee 1964's dilemna.

Two-thirds of the voters who go to the polls next Friday must approve the two issues for passage.

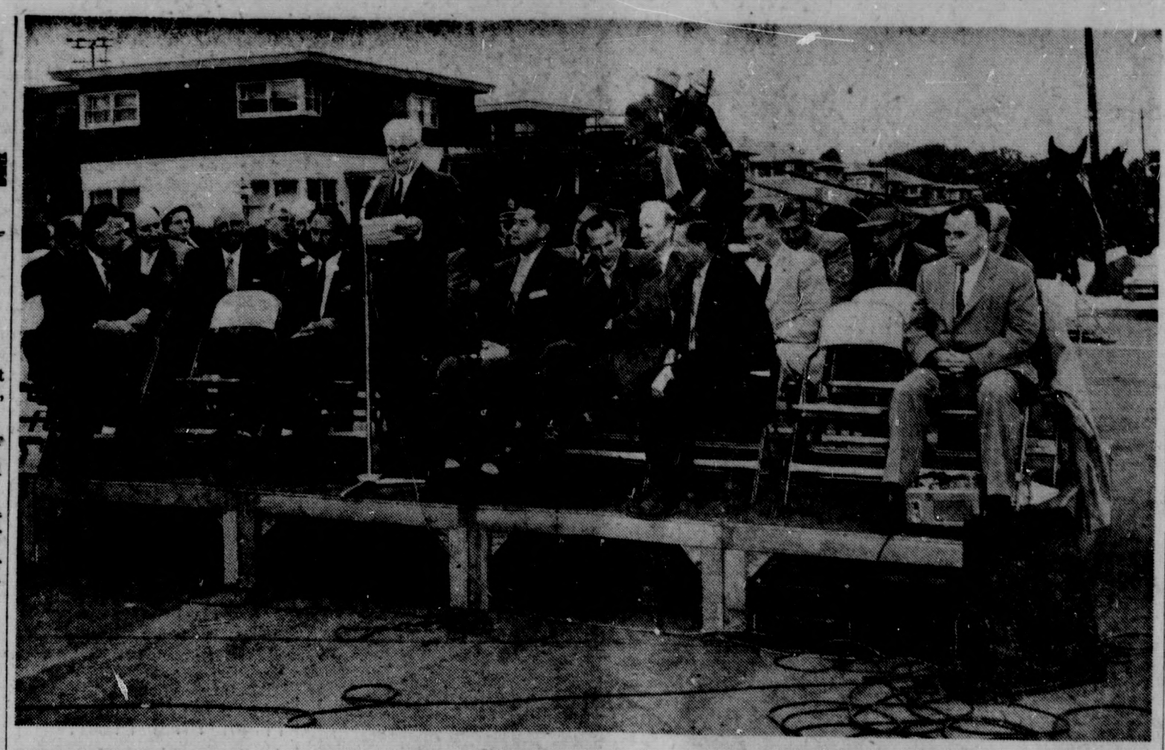
A "Yes" vote will not increase the taxes the district now pays for redemption of bonds, according to school officials.

The funds will make possible construction of two new high schools and an eight-classroom addition to the Westmoor plant now under construction.

If there are sufficient "no" votes to defeat the issues, the high school will remain on double sessions and within a year or two will in all probability be required to institute double sessions, the superintendent estimates.

Schools that will be built with the bond money and state loans will permit students to attend classes on a normal schedule and acquire the type of education which they have an historic right to.

A peek into 1964 should guide voters to an overwhelming "yes" in their decision next Friday.



RALPH T. WILLS, deputy executive assistant to the Postmaster General, gave the major address at the dedication ceremonies of the Westlake station of the Daly City post office and the Department of Motor Vehicle building last week. Wills stressed the need for the new building and emphasized the growth of the area. Others, in the front row, include, left to right, Vincent Murphy, Daly City postmaster; Peter J. Markovich, chairman of the event; Wills, Sanford Vickers, vice-mayor of Daly City; Councilman Micheal DeBernardi and Del Wilson, and, far right, George McQueen, personal secretary for Congressman J. Arthur Younger, "father" of the new Westlake post office station.

Tax Opponent Tells Stand On Brisbane School Squabble

Dear Editor:

Now that the word is out that I am opposed to this school issue in Brisbane (pay as you go, an increase from $1.65 to $2.45 for an indefinite period of time), that in itself should explain why I am against it. But there is much more to it than that. This increase would send Brisbane tax rates up to around $9.19 per hundred assessed valuation. I am not fighting this increase in taxes for personal reasons as I could stand the increase without too much hardship, but how about our old people who were living on soup bones after we had our assessments doubled in November of 1955. An $89 pension check doesn't go too far in these days of high prices. Of course, they could ask the County of San Mateo for help, but who wants to sign property away for a few pounds of hamburger. Our present trustees argue, "well what do the old people do in other cities." Well, in other cities their tax rate isn't over $7, and few cities are assessed as high as Brisbane is in comparision.

Sure, I would like these extra cooking and sewing rooms for our children, as I have two small girls who would benefit from them. But in our community, I do not think we can afford them at this time. I am not trying to hold back progress, but we are already paying taxes to our high school district for these services. We just moved into a new school in February, so there is no shortage of school rooms. I would go for a bond to build these extra rooms in 1959 (we are bonded up to the hilt until then). We have three big halls that could be turned into classrooms in case of an emergency until we build more classrooms in 1959 by passing a bond if we are crowded by them. But I cannot see giving anyone a blank check for an indefinite period of time. The trustees say this increase would only be on for three years, but they had to word it with the County Registrar of voters for an indefinite period of time, because that was the only way it could be done. Well, we went to Redwood City and found out they could word it for any amount of time they wished if they would have given the county clerk 60 days notice.

Even if we did go for this issue on their promise to take it off in three years, the same trustees might not even be "in" three years from now, so how can they make such promises as that, as we would have to call another election to have their operating fund lowered. There would be always a need for some kind of new gadgets. No, I think the time has come for us to use our heads as well as our hearts and cut short some of this flag waving and playing on the sympathy of us mothers to put an issue over. We will soon have to put in a new sewer plant of some kind, too. Then what will our taxes be. Maybe 10 or 11 dollars per hundred, as the sewer is already backing up in some of the sinks, since the state put this new highway out here and cut off the outflow into the bay. So why not let first things come first, as we definitely need the sewerage plant. But there is no rush about additional classrooms at this time.

Yours Truly,

BALANCED SMJC BOARD NEEDED, SAYS GAGGERO

Need for experience in public affairs and the importance of having a balanced board of trustees was stressed today by Anthony J. Gaggero of Daly City in his bid for election as a trustee of the San Mateo Junior College district.

Gaggero pointed out that it was to the interest of the entire district which extends north to the San Francisco line to have a north county representative to effectively balance the board.

Gaggero asks election on the basis of his civic record and interest in providing best possible education to the young people of the district.

JOE LEWKOWITZ, service station operator of Daly City and Red Cross disaster coordinator for this area, Edward George, disaster chairman for the San Mateo County Chapter of Red Cross, and James S. Ricklefs, president of Rick Helicopters, Inc., discuss uses of the machines in Red Cross disaster relief work. Lewkowitz was given a demonstration trip in the whirlybird recently.

Citizens Bond Chairman Urges 'Yes' Vote As Democratic Way

The strength of our democracy is based on education, for education is the foundation for everything that is good in life. Without it we would be subjected to the subversive powers of other nations that tend to destroy the principles of our democracy. Ignorance breeds contempt and we who are blessed with schools that give knowledge which erases ignorance are most fortunate.

To educate our youngsters who wil lbe the citizens to tomorrow requires money. Yet in terms of value the cheapest dollar spent is towards education.

On Friday, May 17, we will again be voting to extend our local educational facilities necessary to take care of the influx of youngsters entering our high schools. The needs are here and in order to prevent double sessions and possibly triple sessions, the passage of Propositions 1 and 2 is most vital. Our youngsters are certainly entitled to a full, well-rounded education.

According to the present State law, by voting favorably it will NOT increase our present High School portion of bond taxes. Because of the bond reserve fund to retire bond funds, we will receive a six cent tax reduction. It can be said that unless the State changes the present law, we will be given a free ride without any additional cost for the next seven years.

It is the duty of all good Americans to cast their ballot on Friday, May 17. You were given this right—take advantage of it by voting.

Peter J. Markovich,
Chairman Citizens
Bond Steering Committee

Brisbaner 'Corrects' Trustee's Dictionary

Dear Editor:

In reference to your editorial letter sent in by Louis J. Duncan, May 2 issue, I am now more convinced than ever that Brisbane needs a new school trustee, especially since Mr. Duncan has referred to the voters who defeated this same issue on February 19, as the minority group. An election is never won by a minority group. I think that someone should point out to Mr. Duncan that 312 is more than 309 and according to Webster, minority means "the smaller number.'

Civil Defense Is Snell PTA's Big Topic On May 21

"How will my child be evacuated and where?" and "What about obtaining children's personal identification tags?' are only two of the questions to be considered at the program on civil defense to be given by James L. Snell PTA at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 21, at the Garden Village multi-purpose room.

Feeling that these questions should be answered and some definite plans developed, Snell PTA has invited representatives from civil defense coordinating committees of San Francisco, San Mateo County, Daly City, Jefferson Elementary School District and the Broadmoor Police Department to give brief surveys of the disaster procedure followed in these organizations. With this additional information and knowledge, the civil defense committee of the Snell PTA can begin formulating plans for its children, parents and teachers.

Members of other groups and of all PTA's are invited to attend the program, which will be open to the public.

To be held at 7:30 p.m., one-half hour earlier than usual, the regular business meeting will begin with Mrs. Irwin Cohen, president, bringing the final business of the year to the attention of members.

LET'S NOT FORGET LAGUNA HONDA ON 'SPECIAL' DAYS

Mother's Day and Father's Day are fast approaching, and what about the aged and helpless folks at Laguna Honda Home?

The public can help with little gifts urges Herb Goldsmith, San Francisco humanitarian who conducts personal drives to cheer the oldsters.

Following necessities will be acceptable:

For women—talcum powder, cologne, stationery, shawls, bed jackets, books, hair ribbons, soap, perfume, ball-point pens, sweaters, scarfs, felt slippers, facial tisues.

For men—shaving cream, after-shave lotion, writing pads, sweaters, slippers, candy, cookies, cigars and cigarettes, pipes and tobacco, razors and blades.

Send your articles to the Laguna Honda Home Volunteers, care of Goldsmith, 17 Powell street, San Francisco.

Rotarians Push Blood Donations To Record Here

The most successful blood donor turnout in Daly City history saw some 58 persons give blood to the mobile unit of the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank recently at Westlake school.

Credit for the good response was given to the Daly City Rotarians and their auxiliary, the Rotary-anns. Chairman of the blood drive was Robert E. Watson. His wife was chairman of the hostess committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Frank Blum, Mrs. Donald Davis, Mrs. Dennis Franco, Mrs. Jack Kendree, Mrs. Edward Saslaw, Mrs. Edward Morgan, Mrs. Howard Stites and Mrs. Jerome Scharfman.

The Colma Girl Scouts, under the direction of Mrs. Emily Fanfelle and Mrs. LeRoy Krueger, assited in recruiting, distribution of literature and baby-sittting.

The unit will return to Daly City on Octiber 29 at Westlake school.

Among the groups donating were the Daly City Rotary Club, Daly City fire department, Daly City police department, Daly City-Colma Girl Scout reserve, Crocker Masonic Lodge 454, and Hope Lutheran church.

News From Here & There

By Eleanor Doyle

Abbot avenue's latest celebrity is Gene Roman, who was also selected for a bit part in the technicolor musical, "Pal Joey." Gene, a popular member of the Screen Etras guild, has received bit parts in "Line Up" on TV, maintains a full-time job, is married, and has two daughters. In private life many of us know him as Gino Dianda.

Duke Art and his Claythings, recently featured on the Steve Allen show, will be emcee for this year's Widows & Orphans Ball on May 11 at War Memorial. Everyone will enjoy Duke's swiftly paced act, as he will mold bigger-than-life-size faces, with witty commentary and song patter.

Congratulations to Battalion Chief Wayne Alexander and wife Virginia of Second avenue, up in the clouds these days since they became grandparents the first time April 19.

Visitors are invited to drop in and see Stephen James and the new mom at the home of the very proud grandparents.

Abbot avenue has another new name to add to the diaper roster with the arrival of Melaine Ann, who debuted at Mount Zion on Palm Sunday, 7 pounds 12 ounces. This bundle belongs to Bob and Bert Carlascio and five-year-old Dennis. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Carlascio of San Mateo and the Neil Reeds of Ketchikan, Alaska.

Some of the gals on B street recently gathered at Mrs. Jean Marsiglis' home for an evening display of Tupperware by Mrs. Blanche Hunsaker. Guests were Mesdames: Dorothy Hillman, Edith Harper, Mary Edgman, Donna Sklivas, Babe Davidson and Lee Pomerans.

Seven-year-old Kathy Race on Castle observed her added year with a "pedal pusher" luncheon and theater party recently. Guests were: Gerry Baldassarre, Cathy Lesher, Lauriann Sarrubi, Christine Mini, Yvonne and Cynthia Puente, Geraldine and Theresa Mercurio.

Belated but happy anniversary wishes to: Fred and Anna Marie Grabke on Oliver, for their 37th year. The Allens, David and Gloria, on Crocker, who just celebrated their 12th, and to Pete and Kay Bodgan on Thiers, for their 8th as a team.

Many happy returns to some birthday people: Cindy Ann Weissgerber on Hillside, Ted Kirschner of B street, Colma, Gene Gaviglio of Lausanne, Judy Joseph on Thiers, Miss Terry Coleman on DeLong, Johnny Ubaldo on Clark, Colma, Mary Boyle of Templeton, Kathy Rose Lapachet on Orange, Robert Pollack and Kathy Gilmore on Brunswick, Mrs. Luella Jacobson, Mrs. Wilma Van Aken, Paulette Fierce, Don Raiff and Larry Whitman all residents of Abbot, Tibbie Price on F street, Colma, Loretta Ballentini of W. Market, Tiny Bolletto on Willits, and her twin sister, Mandy Keller, Danine Rasmussen on Wyandotte, Robert Davies of Garwood and Bruce Mathew Olmanson on Bismark.

Michael Wille on Irvington celebrated his seventh birthday with an Easter theme party, to the delight of guests: Janet MacFarlane, Michael and Judy Crudo, Judy and Janet Atkins, Cathy Tillman, Shirley and Connie Cotter, David Nichols, Diana and David Allen.

In the younger set we find that first birthdays have been claimed by: Etta Louise Harper of B street, Colma; David Allen Staff on Bellevue; Paul Richard Formosa, on Lake Vista; Michael Louis Craviotto on San Diego; Scott Randall Arnold on Miriam, and Joseph Paul Martin on Wyandotte.

Brownies in Troop 18 bypassed their regular meeting during Easter vacation for a well-planned itinerary. The day went: a morning tour of the Allison's Cookie Plant in South City, back to the home of leader Mrs. June Bianchini on Lowell for an egg hunt, then a festive luncheon party. Lucky youngsters were: Joyce Ahuna, Barbara Bianchini, Cindy Cannon, Terry Fontenot, Pamela Grey, Helen Hofhine, Evelyn Landgren, Cindy O'Neill, Cheri Plumley, Cathy Tuhton, Janice Ramey and Linda Christian.

The girls were accompanied on the visit to the plant by Mrs. Virginia Ahuna and Mrs. Doris Scardino.

Another addition to the button and bows set is Margaret Ann, third child and second daughter of the Harold Fields on Brunswick. New arrival entered St. Luke's on April 9, weighing 6 pounds 12 ounces. The baby has a sister, Kathleen, 8, and a brother, Harold John, 2.

Grandparents are Chief Fire Marshal and Mrs. John F. Fields of Risel street, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mahachek of St. Louis, Missouri.

Christening services were held at OLPH for Thomas Anthony, infant son of the Joseph Ferraris on Hillside. The baby's godparents are Mr. and Mrs. William McBride of San Francisco. A small reception followed at the parents' home.

Mrs. Roberta Schueszler and Lois Saraceni, sisters, shared hostess duties last Wednesday evening at a stork shower in the latter's home on Abbot. It honored their cousin, Mrs. Darlene Dalessio of San Francisco. Wee items were received from Mesdames: Edith Walarinta, Lucille Hansen, Marie Saraceni, Mary Natole, Rosemary Delesi, Mary Gentile, May Colombo, Eleanora Foppiano, Marilyn Matli, Maxine Mariucci and Miss Diane Natole.

This shower was a little different from most, due to the arrival of "Ronnie Boy" before the scheduled affair.

Katherine Hanson on Garwood drive is another recent birthday girl, who shared her sixth party treats with: Nadine Mignault, Theresa, Delana and Victor Orence, Mark and Laura Hunt, and her sisters, Kristine and Karen.

Notes at Random: Patty Lauer of Abbot is feeling like her old self after parting company with her tonsils at St. Mary's. Hats off to Mrs. Mary Wakefield on Evergreen, who recently gave her 41st pint of blood. Last Sunday, April 28, was quite a big day for Kenny Klassen of Cotonwood drive, as he was one of five selected (out of 300 carriers) to spend the day in Disneyland, traveling to and from by TWA.

The Robert Arkos on Los Olivos will be saying their adieus this week for a new address on Rosewood drive in San Carlos. Teddy and Linda, 14-year-old twins of the Alfred Marquez on Orange, are still talking about their wonderful visit to Heavenly Valley at Lake Tahoe.

The Navarras on Abbot, Mike and Vi, and the Navarras on Niantic, Dominic and Adeline, (brothers married to sisters) were seen dining at the Carriage House last Saturday evening, celebrating birthdays.

COUNCILWOMAN GUEST SPEAKER OF NORTH END DEMOS

Multi-talented Mrs. Marian Hemingway, one of the Peninsula's most active political figures, will be key speaker at the May 15 meeting of the North End Democratic Club in Westlake school. Her topic will be, "Role of the Citizen in the Community."

Mrs. Hemingway, a member of the San Mateo City Council, is president of the Peninsula Chapter of UNESCO and is former vice president of the League of Women Voters of San Mateo County.

Tom Noonan of Sterling Park is president of the North End Demos' new slate of officers. Others chosen: Mrs. Albert Brawley, vice president; Stanley Brown, treasurer and Mrs. Margo Westgaard, secretary.

Next week's meeting at the Westlake school starts at 8 p.m., with the public invited.

Driver Transplants Redwood City, But Judge May Disagree

Take it from Officer George Brooks, the best way to reach Redwood City isn't by going north on Skyline boulevard.

Ira C. Ramsour, 52-year-old Palo Alto sheet metal worker, thought so late Saturday night after the Daly City policeman stopped his "weaving" vehicle on Skyline.

Brooks had to force Ramsour to the curb when the latter refused to heed the cycle cop's siren and red light.

Ramsour told Brooks, "I'm just trying to find Redwood City." When informed it was impossible, the Palo Altan still insisted his northerly direction was correct.

Ramsour flunked a sobriety test, then posted $500 bond for release. He's due in municipal court May 16. Probably won't have any trouble finding the way. It is north this time.

Dinner Friday For Mother-Daughter Church Women

Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald of the Westside Christian church of San Francisco, will be the speaker of the evening for the annual mother-daughter banquet sponsored by the Christian Womens Fellowship of the Vista Grande Avenue Christian church this Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Special musical numbers and other features will be offered.

Next Tuesday some of the ladies will attend an all day Bay Area Christian Women's Fellowship at the First Christian church in Oakland.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the regular Fellowship meeting of the women will install new officers for the coming year.

At the 10:55 o'clock morning worship service Sunday, the minister, J. Richard Friedline, will continue to preach on "The Will of God."

Knights Revive Vaudeville Saturday On OLPH Stage

"A Night at the Palace," featuring professional and semi-professional acts, will highlight the "Night of Vaudeville," to be presented at Our Lady of Perpetual Help hall on Wellington avenue this Saturday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, according to Thomas L. Bocci, Jr., Grand Knight of Marian Council, Knights of Columbus, sponsore of the affair. Admission is free.

Active and former vaudevillians will present their wares to an audience seated in an atmosphere of checked tablecloths, beer steins and sawdust, Bocci stated.

"Everything will be free," Bocci stated. "We are trying to rekindle an appreciation of the finer things, locally, and we are certain that an affair such as this will be talked of for a long time afterwards."

Local civic leaders who have been invited include the city manager, the city council and fire and police departments of Daly City, Broadmoor and Colma, who will be accorded special honors, according to Judge Bocci.

Madame Jeanne Cain, calypso authority, will feature some of her specialty acts.

Lake Almanor is famous for its large rainbow and wily German brown trout.

OLPH Moms Will Elect, Fix Laws On Friday Night

What promises to be one of the best meetings of the year will be held this Friday night by the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help school in the school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

Business will consist of voting on new by-laws and election of officers. This year a new procedure will be used—the election will be held by ballot. Running are Mesdames: Ann Pearson against Alice Gonzales, financial secretary; Dorothy Coleman against Pat Mondloch, treasurer; Helen Fredericks against Ennes Ciardella, auditor.

Mrs. Barbara Senkir, chairman of reservations for the fashion show, announced that this meeting will be the last chance to make reservations before tickets go on sale to the general public.

Refreshments will be served by the first grade mothers, with Mrs. Betty Maschinot as chairman.

Moms To Install Officers Monday At St. Michael's

Mrs. Guido Tripaldi, first president of the club, will install new officers at the meeting of St. Michael's Mothers' Club Monday, 8 p.m., in the school auditorium. All standing committee chairmen will present yearly reports to the members.

May 22 is the date for a luncheon honoring outgoing president Mrs. Louis Ciapponi. This fete will be held at Brentwood Lodge off El Camino Real. Price of the luncheon will be $2.25 including tax and tip. Reservations may be made at Monday's meeting.

Refreshments will be served with first and second grade mothers as hostesses.

Brisbane Parents Back Tax Increase

Brisbane PTA membership voted last Thursday to endorse the 80-cent increase in the local school district's tax rate, an issue which will be voted on May 17.

To acquaint members with the Jefferson High School district bond issue, Allen B. Rigler, Brisbane's representative to the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, briefly explained the district's needs and emphasized the importance of a "yes" vote.

A fashion show was presented by members of the adult education sewing classes, who modeled dresses they had made.

A collection of woven handicraft from Crystal Springs Old Folks Home was presented by Mrs. Agnes Whitson, occupational therapy teacher.

The world's record catch of barracuda was made in 1932 at West End, B.W.I.; 103½ pounds, it measured 66 inches long.

Churchmen Slate 'Mammoth Dance'

A "Mammoth Spring Dance" will be held Saturday, May 18, by the Men's club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church at the school auditorium, 80 Wellington avenue.

The $3 admission price will include a plentiful supply of refreshments, buffet supper starting at 11 p.m. and prizes.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. to the music of Angelo Ferrigno's orchestra.

Co-chairmen are Nate Pearlman and Bill Konevich.

Joyce Rogers, Fred Davis Set Betrothal

Miss Joyce Rogers, 18, Jeff High graduate of 1956, will exchange vows with Fred Davis, 22, San Francisco State student, on August 11 at St. Catherine's church in Burlingame.

Engagement was announced late last month at the home of her parents.

The bride-to-be, a teletype operator, lives at 139 Adrian avenue, South San Francisco. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rogers, same address.

Davis, who will graduate next year with a biological science degree, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Davis, 218 Park avenue, San Carlos.

He was vice president of the student body while attending Serra High. Fred works part-time as a shoe salesman in Stonestown to meet college expenses.

Brandts Welcome Their First Heir: A Bouncing Boy

William and Janet Brandt, 473 Knowles avenue, welcomed their first blessing Sunday night when William Jeffery Brandt, 7 pounds 1 ounce, arrived at Mary's Help hospital.

Proud pop, an apprentice plumber, and the new mom both attended Our Lady of Perpetual Help many years ago. William went on to graduate from Riordan High, while the missus attended Mercy High.

The youngster's dad spent a two-year hitch in the Marine Corps, including 11½ months on the Korean front with the 1st Marine Air Wing.

Senior William's 21st birthday was Saturday. His wife of two years is 20.

Folk Dance Festival At Sheridan School

Parents and friends of pupils of Sheridan school are invited to attend a Folk Dance Festival, to be presented by the pupils next Wednesday, at 10:30 a.m., in the school yard.

On Festival day, pupils may purchase hot lunches in their classrooms at noon, and parents and friends may buy hot lunches in the school auditorium. Lunches will be prepared by Sheridan PTA.

Evangelist To Open 'Youth' Series At Calvary Baptist

Evangelist Louie Rhoden of Southern California will open a six-day "Campus Church Crusade" this Sunday at Calvary Baptist church, 5655 Mission street, the Rev. Roy H. Austin told THE RECORD today.

Noted for his work in youth evangelism, Rhoden will speak at all four Sunday services, then conduct a series of nightly meetings through Friday, May 17. Representatives of all Baptist churches in the Bay Area will be special guests.

Highlights of Rhoden's appearances will be Monday night, with a banquet for high school and college youths in the church at 6 o'clock, and a "Youth Rally," Friday evening at 7:30. The Monday through Friday night sessions all start at 7:30 o'clock.

Sunday's Calvary Baptist services are at 9:45 and 11 a.m. and 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., according to Reverend Austin. Public is invited.

Crockerites Report

FIFTH GRADE
MRS. McKEOWN
By Patric Gattrell

Our class is studying the atom. Things are made of solids, liquids and gases. Temperature changes can make solids into liquids, and then change them back into solids. The atom is the smallest thing on earth. We use the atom for things like the atom bomb. Even the most powerful microscope can hardly see the atom.

Energy makes things go. Things like heat, electricity or lights are not matter because they are not forms and do not take up space.

In our class we have a book about the atom. We also clip pictures and articles from the newspapers.

By Jessie Bulatao

Our class is studying about famous men. Some children in our class had to make reports on them. I made a report on George Washington Carver. He was born a slave, but became a great agricultural scientist. When he was old enough he searched for an education. People call him "The Plant Doctor." He learned more and more, as he went to school, about plants and nature. In 1896 he went to Simpson College in Iowa to study painting. The next year he went to Iowa State to study plants and nature in order to help his people, the Negros.

FOURTH GRADE
MISS PEIRA

Our class took a recent bus trip to the Planetarium in Golden Gate Park. Everyone enjoyed the show, which included an imaginary trip through space. After the demonstration and talk on the solar system, we had a picnic lunch in the park, then visited the Japanese Tea Garden.

QUEEN Christine Enberg (on throne) and her attendants were the center of attraction Friday as they reigned over annual May Day Festival and Luncheon at Jefferson school, sponsored by Colma PTA. Royalty on the platform include: Penny Almquist, Lauren Fehl, Thora Peterson, Susan Chiaparri, Donna Dillaboy, Linda Ballati, Harriet Riggar, Geraldine Bisio, Nelle Terpening, Stephanie Courter and Denise Parodi. Lone laddie is Frederic Reveteria, crown bearer.

Mrs. Spittler Installed W-Wilson PTA Leader

Mrs. John Spittler was installed president of Woodrow Wilson PTA at the unit's last meeting. Using children's toys as symbols of their respective offices, Mrs. Foriest Cunningham installed Mrs. Spittler and fellow officers: Mrs. Wallace Clark, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Meaney, recording secretary; Mrs. Anthony Giammona, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arthur Hermosillo, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Sawyer, auditor, and Mrs. Thomas Tromborg, historian.

Presidential awards were presented by Mrs. Spittler to Mrs. A. Giammona, Mrs. W. Clark, Mrs. J. Radford, Mrs. D. Keene, S. Passafiume and W. Maloney. Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Mesquite, custodians, and Mrs. C. Andrus, school secretary, were presented with gifts in appreciation of their many services to the unit.

Mrs. E. Hahn accepted a phonograph and album of folk records purchased for the school with proceeds from the recent rag drive.

Business meeting was followed by an International program featuring several student groups. Pauline Iwahashi, Marilyn Ogata and Connie Shimada performed a Japanese dance, and a group of children of Spanish descent sang one of their native songs. Germany, Scotland, Italy and France were represented in songs by students of Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Pless, Miss Caravacci, and Mrs. Ferrea. Mrs. Pless' class also sang an Indian song.

Miss Seaton of Jefferson High spoke on Fine Arts and its place in the well-rounded education of youngsters.

The lowest point in Asia is the Dead Sea in Palestine, 1290 feet below sea level.

Colma PTA's Festival Attracts Big Audience

A huge throng invaded Jefferson school Friday for Colma PTA's annual May Day Festival and Luncheon, featuring the crowning of fifth grader Christine Enberg as queen.

Mrs. Gino Marchetti, Colma PTA president, handled the coronation ceremony. Christine's atendants were: Penny Almquist, Lauren Fehl, Thora Peterson, Donna Dilaboy, Linda Balati, Harriet Riggar, Susan Chiapari, Geraldine Bisio, Nelle Terpening, Stephanie Courter and Denise Parodi.

Queen's crown bearer was Frederic Revetria, with Ronie Thuener as his alternate.

The program opened with entrance of the queen and her court, followed by the call to assembly. Fourth, fifth and sixth graders participated in the Grand March. Orchestra and choral selections were by fifth and sixth grade students.

The traditional May Pole dance was executed by kindergarten and first grade children. Folk dancing by children in grades two through six concluded the festivities.

Principal Marie Traynor lauded everyone "for the outstanding success of this fete.'

CONFIRMATION SET AT ST. MARTIN'S SUNDAY AFTERNOON

In a special afternoon service at Westlake auditorium, St. Martin's Episcopal church will present its fourth class, approximately 20 members, to Suffragan Bishop Henry L. Shires of the diocese of California for confirmation at 4 p.m. this Sunday.

This, together with previous services in December, 1955, September, 1956, and January, 1957, will make a total of approximately 65 confirmations in this church to date.

Consisting of two groups, children and adults, the confirmants are this week concluding a ten weeks' "Short Course in Christianity" conducted by the Rev. Allen J. Downey, vicar of St. Martin's, in preparation for the "laying on of hands" by the bishop in which official membership in the church is received. The bishop will also address the class and congregation on the significance of the sacrament.

Ram Tales by Ron Bosc

Westmoor High's German club recently balloted for new officers, with the following results:

Kathi Macklin, president; Gail Walsh, vice president; Kathy Larson, secretary; Barbara Gollady, treasurer; Susan Damon, sergeant-at-arms.

Big event coming up is a dinner at a German restaurant. Sauerkraut and vienerschnitzel, no doubt!

To help advertise Ram activities, a four-member student publicity committee has been formed. Beating the drums will be Roy Thomelson, Jerry Rosenberg, Karl Bell and Spike Koche.

Westmoor students are getting ready for Spirit Week, which starts next Monday and runs through May 17. Jeff students are busy this week with their "Spirit" program, and we at Ramville will follow through with a similar slate.

Our big week starts next Monday with "Hick Day." On Tuesday and Thursday, males and she-males will take turns toting each other's books . . . called "Twirp Days." Wednesday is "Coed Day," and the festivities end Friday with "Color Day," topped with a big rally at which individual classes will be attired in various colors. Lots of fun for all.

First annual "Block W" dance is on the calendar for May 17, a Friday night. The hop, running from 8 to 11:30, will cost stags 50 cents and couples 75 cents. This will be a traditional affair and a capacity crowd is expected to kick it off.

Ernest Ribera, Westmoor social studies teacher and track coach, recently gave history students another reminder on next week's big bond and state aid election in our high school district. The big population boom on the Coastside is one of the main reasons "YES" votes are needed at the polls next on May 17, he pointed out. Not too many of the registered voters turned out last election, so there's need for improvement there. Regardless of how folks ballot, the more the better. Double and possible triple sessions could be the consequences if the issues fail to pass. And education suffers in the process.

John Heick, Den 8 Dominate Pack 84's 'Annual Olympics'

Scoring 16 points on two firsts and a pair of second place finishes, John Heick walked away with individual honors Sunday in Cub Pack 84's "Annual Olympics" on the Jefferson High track.

Competing in the bracket for 8-year-olds, young Heick took firsts in the high and the broad jump, then placed in the 50-yard-dash and the softball throw.

Lee Williams, John Siriani and Gerald Gardner gave Heick his toughest moments, deadlocking behind him for individual points.

Events were conducted in four age divisions. Here's how they finished:

9-year-olds: Frank Bennett, 13 points, with firsts in the 50-yard-sprint and high jump, and second in the broad jump. Billy Eagleton and Mike Land, right on Bennett's heels, tied for second.

10-year-olds: John Vocke, 14 points, with a win in the 75-yard-dash, and three second places (softball toss, broad jump and kickball boot). Wayne Howell and Jim Harris were next.

Webelos (10 years 6 months) Bruce Hix, a big winner, with sweeps in the high jump and softball throw, second in kickball and third in the 75-dash. Stiff competition came from Jim Fisher, 13 points, and Dan Dempsey, 12 points.

First three finishers in each event were decorated with ribbons. Group winners are due "suitable awards" at their next Pack meeting. Den 8 (Heick, Bennett, Land and Vocke) will be the feted unit.

Credit for the "outstanding meet" was sprinkled in many directions. Al Harris deserved most of the laurels as he supervised the entire affair. Jeff's Mike Orlich wins praise for use of the field, while Bob Watt, Indian track coach, was official starter with the gun. Den moms also got in on the act, serving hot dags, soft drinks and coffee.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

We don't think we should let another week go by without mentioning how beautiful the flowers are at the Baptist church, and what a tribute they are to someone's hard work. We have a hunch that the work is Rev. Milam's; he is to be congratulated—and thanked—for adding something to the community.

Ocean Grove's Mary and Martin Schneider welcomed a baby boy into their family circle, but we have not been able to get in touch with them to find out his name. Possibly they have moved by now.

Manila's Russ Green and Oakmont's Phyllis and David Cohen had vacation sicknesses that didn't seem to know when vacation was over, but have finally left for good. . . or Kevin Whitehead up on Beechwood has had some nasty mumps after-effects; we hope he's better soon.

Ruthmary Warner has been having a busy time of it on Gilman. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Skelton, came up from Capistrano Beach for a week's visit. While here, her father painted the house gray and white for her. Nice visitors to have! Ruthmary also told us that her grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Hill, recently celebrated her 104th birthday at her home in Flint, Michigan, there was a big family gathering, with all the fixings. Mrs. Hill is an active person, and a rabid Detroit Tigers fan!

Birthday Wishes

Happy birthdays are due Vivian Firneisz of Muirwood, Gert Green of Manila, and Mrs. Marjorie Howe, Corinne Bryce's mother. Mrs. Howe shares her birthday date with us, and with our Donny Mitchell, and also with Wanda Chinevere of Maddux. A popular day!

Donny celebrated his 8th year with cupcakes for his classmates at school, and with a family dinner. Wanda marked her 4th with an outdoor party, and guests Sandra, Paula and Linda Brenke, Patty, Lonnie and Michael Vaughn, Linda Hope, Jim Carpenter, and brother Harold Chinevere all gathered on the front lawn for ice cream and cake. Wanda's grandparents and everyone else's parents were all there, too.

Rex and Charlotte Spruiell joined forces with Julia and John Rued and traveled up to Carmichael from Washington street to see how Rev. and Mrs. John Glasse are in their new home and ministry. The report is that they have a lovely home with trees around it, and that Mrs. G. is staying put in it—for now, anyway! Mr. G. loves his work and both of them are very happy.

Sweetwood's Dorothy and Collins Orton played host to a potluck dinner-bridge the other Saturday night. Other couples coming to enjoy good food and a good game were Cliff and Ruthmary Warner, Ken and Bunny Gillespie, and Joe Harrison.

Important Meeting

Mark May 13 as an important date. That's the night that the Stanford team which has been surveying the Jefferson Elementary School curriculum, et al, will present the results to the present moment. There will be a chance for open discussion from the floor, so all parents will have a good chance to learn more about children's school system. 8 p.m. at Jeff Hi auditorium.

And while we're marking dates—May 12 is Mother's Day, and Friday, May 17, is the day everyone has to decide on who will serve as school trustees and whether or not those so important high school bonds will be put to work to insure high school education for our children.

90th street took to the waves in high spirits the Saturday realtor Fred Bargioni treated the working gals of the Plaza Answering Service to a day on the briny bay on his yacht. Kay and Judy Logan, Pat Reel and Ruth McCall were the lucky ladies who enjoyed everything, including a delicious lunch aboard.

In our last column, when we talked about Maurine Guymon's birthday, we neglected to give the last name of one of her SF friends. For the curious, it's Eunice Lindblom.

Betty Dalton

Betty Dalton's sudden death at Eastertime saddened her many friends. We are only glad she had a chance to know, and Dan with her, how many people there are in the Villages who were interested in helping with the ramp project so necessary to the safety of them both. The flowers around her at Duggan's were numerous, a beautiful setting for a sweet and pretty girl, who will be missed very much, especially by her devoted husband.

We don't know the family at 10 Garden gateway, but we would like to thank them for sharing their lovely garden with passersby. Those apple blossoms trailing over the fence in the corner have a nostalgic scent which seems to mean spring in a special way that no other blooms can match.

Anniversaries on the list for this week's notes include Vince and Gloria Cauchi of Wildwood with eight years together, and Kay and Ray Logan of 90th street with 15. Wishes for happiness to both couples herewith, most sincerely.

That nice new yellow coat of paint on the house at Ellis and Wildwood means that Ray and Helen Kolb have been busy redecorating. On Maddux, Harold Chinevere has a new white fence, and we do mean white. He sprayed it, so there are white specks on everything for yards around!

We were sorry to hear that little Roxanne Reyes of Midway is in Franklin hospital with both legs in traction. She'll be there most of this week, so cards and notes will be very welcome to help the long hours pass. Roxanne and her parents had just gotten back from a three week trip up in northern Washington when this trouble came along.

Tom and Bea Gantert left Louvaine behind for a weekend in Santa Cruz, and various friends took care of the Gantert young ones. Barbara and Kathy stayed with the Delfinos on Washington, and enjoyed a backyard barbecue with a number of other Delfino friends and relatives. Nita D. was glad to take time away from the sewing which keeps her busy, especially the costumes for the 1st graders in the Holy Angels May festival.

This past weekend, the Ganterts held open house so that their many friends could see what a lovely home they have. The new addition blends so well with the "old" house that it is all one large comfortable spacious living area. Of course the children are delighted with so many rooms all for them! All in all, Bea and Tom welcomed some 50 guests and gave them a deluxe tour. We don't doubt that all 50 went home and began drawing plans of their own, including all the closet space which the Ganterts have!

FIVE LOCAL PTA presidents "dolled up" for the cameraman just before leaving for the 58th annual California Congress of Parents and Teachers convention, which started Wednesday in Long Beach. Left to right: Mrs. John (Gwin) Mitchell, James L. Snell PTA; Mrs. Charles Hansen, Jefferson High PTA; Mrs. Gene Hedrick, Crocker-Pershing PTA; Mrs. Arthur Huelse, Hillside PTA, and Mrs. Bobby Cohn, Westlake-Olympia PTA. The convention ends this Friday.

Trash Dumper Finds It Just Ain't Legal

Dumping beer cans and assorted trash off Scenic way led to the arrest of George W. Allen, 19, of 419 Bellevue avenue, early Wednesday afternoon.

Officer Art Linhares spotted Allen in the act, and John Levadits, 129 Lily street, San Francisco, behind the wheel of the "dump" truck.

Allen's bail was set at $50 cash or bond by Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr.

6th Army Bandsmen Perform In Brisbane

Famed Sixth Army Band from Presidio of San Francisco presented an hour-long concert Wednesday night for parents and youngsters at Natalie Lipman school in Brisbane.

Featured was the soldiers' Bag Pipe Band (part of the bigger unit), which has earned national acclaim for musical excellence.

As a special treat, the Lipman school band joined the GI bandsmen for two selections.

Garibaldi Street Residents Balk At Assessments

Some 25 Garibaldi street property owners displayed mixed reactions before the council Wednesday at a proposal to extend their dead-end street through to Hillside boulevard.

While a majority appeared to favor the extension, there was little enthusiasm over the per-lot assessment which would be required to purchase necessary private property for the extension.

Public Works Director Otis Calhoun said he estimated it would cost $11,800 to obtain J. Kornbloom's two lots needed for the street etxension.

For property owners near Hillside whom Calhoun said would benefit the most, assessments would run as high as $368. At the Mission end of Garibaldi, the per-lot figure would be $144.

Albert Teglia, 35 Garibaldi, spokesman for the pro-extension group, labeled the cost "outrageous." He claimed the city should help bear the cost of connecting the streets with Hillside.

Calhoun pointed out that a petition calling for the street extension had received only six signatures, about three per cent, while approval of 50 per cent of the land owners was required to institute the assessment district.

Teglia agreed to circulate the petition himself in an effort to obtain the necessary signatures.

If his efforts fail, the council will have to decide whether the city will pick up the tab for the extension or drop the matter.

Should the city pay the fare, it was pointed out that there are numerous other dead-end streets in the city which would also have to be extended at city expense.

Brisbane Chamber Backs Tax Hike, Hi School Bonds

Brisbane Chamber of Commerce, with membership of about 60 persons, Tuesday night unanimously endorsed two issues "to speed the betterment of our schools."

They went on record favoring:

1. The proposed 80-cent tax hike in the Brisbane Elementary School District.

2. "Yes" votes at the polls May 17 on the Jefferson Un-High School District's $2,900,000 bond and $8 million state aid election.

Arthur E. Kennedy, speaking for Ted Dagler, Brisbane C-of-C president, told THE RECORD, "We urge everyone to get behind these proposals." Kennedy is secretary-manager of the chamber.

Brisbane's estimated population is approximately 4500, Kennedy indicated.

INJURED CHILD OUT OF COMA

Two - year - old Darlyne Schultz regained consciousness Monday, 11 days after she was struck by an automobile in front of her parents' Atlanta street home.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultz, 548 Atlanta, reported that Darlyne opened her eyes again Monday, but has not yet spoken. Brain injury received in the accident has left her left side paralyzed, but the girl's physician said surgery did not yet appear necessary.

Although the child's progress is reported slow, she has been taken off the critical list at Kaiser Foundation hospital, where she is expected to remain for several more weeks.

Business Halts As Power Lines Cut

Most businesses ground to a standstill last Friday morning during an electric power failure that lasted nearly one hour.

The "dim out" was caused by an airplane shearing high tension wires in the east Bay.

Local PG&E manager Joseph Rohl reported his office was "loaded" with phone calls from worried residents. Fire engines responded to several homes where electric washers or dryers caught fire because of engines overheating. No serious fires resulted, however.

CHARGE WAITER WITH STABBING, BURGLARY HERE

Peter J. DeGregorio, 46, a waiter at Westlake Joe's, was arraigned in municipal court Thursday on charges of assallt with a deadly weapon and burglary, resulting from his arrest Wednesday morning after a stabbing incident in Westlake.

Ruben Kundert, a salesman, 155 Crestwood drive, apartment 11, suffered slight knife wounds on the chest and hand, which he claims were inflicted by DeGregorio during a scuffle in the apartment. Kundert told police DeGregorio entered the apartment about 5 a.m.

The waiter fled the scene, but was picked up outside the residence a few minutes later by Officer Robert Warren.

DeGregorio, who police said had been drinking, admitted he invaded the apartment, but nothing else, according to Lt. Roy Beecher.

The waiter is in county jail. Bail has been set at $5000 cash or $10,000 bond.

Three On List For Police Captain

Sgt. Dave Hansen finished first in the April 19 examination for the new position of police captain, according to an eligibility list certified by the personnel board Tuesday.

Also qualifying for the $468 to $542 a month position were Inspector John Walsh and Lt. Roy Beecher, in that order.

Any one of the three may be named to the executive post. Selection is made by Police Chief Roland Petrocchi following an interview with the three men. The appointment is expected to be announced some time this month.

Examination for the other new police executive position, assistant chief, will be held Monday. Eight applicants will vie in the written and oral examination, including two candidates from the East.

Examination for fire captain was scheduled to be held yesterday. Results of both examinations will be announced in about 10 days.

3 Brisbane Victims Back From Hospital

Three Brisbane youngsters are home this week after hospitalization for injuries suffered in recent accidents.

Kathy Schmidt and Carol Mozzetti, involved in a car smashup on the Army street approach to the freeway, are "doing nicely."

Dick Hosking, hurt in a motorcycle mishap, was released from the hospital Tuesday.

Legion Auxiliary 410 Announces Part In National Poppy Sale

"Wear a crepe paper poppy and help a veteran and his family."

This slogan is voiced by members of Daly City Unit 410 American Legion Auxiliary, as they prepare for "National Poppy Days," May 24 and 25.

Made by disabled vets at the Palo Alto Veteran's hospital for distribution in this area, the red poppies will aid needy vets and their children.

"Veterans have done a lot for this country," reminded local chairman Mrs. Geraldine Mabutus, "and by buying a poppy or two we can show our appreciation."

Look for members of Unit 410 on May 24 and 25. They'll be waiting for you.

Obituaries

David R. Kennon

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Lasswell's for infant David Richard Kennon, 2, who died Thursday in a hospital at Banning, California.

Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Freeman, 299 Second avenue in Daly City, David succumbed from a ruptured throat artery following a recent tonsillectomy.

His parents are Sgt. and Mrs. Harold R. Kennon, who reside on the Marine base at Twenty Nine Palms, California. Other survivors include David's brother, Thomas, 4, and sister, Diana, 18 months; and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kennon of Bonne Terre, Mo.

Burial was in Golden Gate National cemetery.

Collegian Baciocco Makes Honor Roll

Eugene A. Baciocco of Daly City is on the mid-semester honor roll at St. Mary's college, it was announced today by Brother U. Cassian, F.S.C., dean of the college.

Baciocco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baciocco, 248 3rd avenue, is a 1954 graduate of Riordan high school. He is a junior pre-medical student.

News Carrier Suffers Most From Burglar

Anthony D'Antonio, a newspaper carrier who lives at 3312 San Jose avenue, will have to work harder this month to earn that extra money.

A thief climbed through an open bedroom window of the D'Antonio home Monday afternoon. The invader got three checks and $35 cash from a bureau drawer.

The haul represented all of Anthony's proceeds from his paper route.

Three Car Dealers 'Clouted' By Vandals

Car boosters and vandals continued to plague Daly City police this week, with three more incidents written on the blotter.

Using nails or other sharp instruments, culprits did $50 damage Sunday night by scratching the paint on four cars at Gateway Chevrolet, 6565 Mission street.

On Tuesday night, "clouters" invaded the Drake Used Car Lot, 6854 Mission, and Carl Haas Buick, 6888 Mission, filching hubcaps and fender skirts off two Cadillacs, no less!

Tom Drake reported four missing Caddie hubcaps, while Haas' loss was two fender skirts and four hubcaps.

Turn your nightmares into modern dreams

If you... are embarrassed by ancient or inadequate bathroom fixtures... You can... enjoy the latest in modern plumbing with FHA financing—nothing down, small monthly payments.

If you... freeze in the winter and roast through the summer... You can... have a 'living-conditioned' home, winter and summer, through FHA—for only a few dollars a month.

If you... are wasting time and energy in an inefficient, 'nightmare' kitchen... You can... relax in a 'dream kitchen' with all the modern conveniences—convenient financing, too, through FHA.

First-Place Tribe Hosts Limp Warriors

Paul Tapia Registers 2 Wins To Grab Lead

Perched half a game ahead in first place and strong enough to stay there, Jefferson's varsity baseballers continue pursuit of the North PAL pennant this Friday afternoon when Ed Leveroni toes the hill against deflated South City here.

Two straight defeats have moved the Warriors to 4-4, but they still have the goods to fight to the wire. Hillsdale (5-3) trails the Indians, with Capuchino knotted with South City and coming fast.

Tapia Shines

Consecutive mound wins by junior Paul Tapia (Friday over Carlmont, 9-6, and Tuesday over Burlingame, 3-2) shot Steve Mezzera's kids to the top of the heap. Improved plate work, especially by former subs Del Scott and Gary Ryan, has given Steve Mezzera's nine all the balance they need.

Tapia is 2-0 in the league, while ace Leveroni stands 3-2. Eddie still leads North PAL hurlers for most strikeouts and may be first in earned-run-average at season's end.

San Mateo's 3-2 victory over SSF Tuesday was a pleasant surprise for Jeff, while Capuchino completed the picture by slaughtering Hillsdale, 15-3. Cap perhaps poses Jeff's biggest threat for the flag. The late-starting Mustangs are hitting stride.

Good Backing

Tapia's mates backed him with 11 hits Friday against Carlmont. Ex-reserves Del Scott and Gary Ryan, outfielders, led the way with 3 for 3 each. One of Scott's bingles was a key double. Steady Bill Strassburger also banged a pair of hits. He's sticking .333 in his bid for all-loop honors. Scott, to bat only six times so far, heads Tribe batsmen with a .667 mark. Ryan, 5 for 15, has .333, while mainstay Barry Haanen, dead-certain all league candidate, is stroking .304.

Haanen Hero

Haanen knocked in all Jeff runs Tuesday in the decision over Burlingame. His two-out triple in the third gave Jeff a 2-0 lead. Tapia and Ino Patron had preceded Haanen's smash with a double and single, respectively.

And Haanen's sacrifice fly in the fifth, scoring Tapia, who got on via a walk and advanced on Leroy Franzoea's single, provided the clincher.

Carlmont reached Tapia for eight hits, while Paul scattered six against Burlingame.

Drug Kids Suffer Initial Loss, 7-2

Tough St. John's handed the Daly City Drug horsehiders their first loss Sunday, outhitting the locals 11-7 and posting a 7-2 decision.

Terry Christman, whiffing nine, had stopped Mill Valley last Saturday at Marchbanks, 8-3, to keep the Drug nine's streak intact.

The Creighton-Krohn youngsters meet St. Gabriel's this Saturday at Marchbanks, starting at 11 o'clock. St. Brendan invades the same site Sunday to test the locals.

DC Police Plan Athletic League

An organizational meeting to launch a Police Athletic League, sponsored by the Daly City police department, will be held this Saturday morning at City Hall, starting at 11 o'clock.

Principal speaker will be W. M. Carroza, of Menlo Park, one of the founders of the Police Athletic League in New York City.

Officer John Coleman is chairman of the DCPD's committee for the project, which is designed to provide more recreation for youth of the community.

Coyote Point Pool Open To Folks On Weekends, Holidays

College of San Mateo announces that the Coyote Point Campus swimming pool will be open to the public on weekends and holidays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., beginning this Saturday and running through Sunday, June 23.

At the close of the college year June 23, the pool will be open daily during these hours. A registered life guard and a CSM physical education instructor will be on duty.

Admission for residents of the San Mateo Junior College District will be 25 cents for persons under 18 years of age, and 50 cents for adults. Admission for persons outside the district will be 50 cents for persons under 18, and one dollar for adults.

Westmoor's New Football Boss Is Top Strategist

By Roy Hurlbert

Westmoor High will inherit a "good savvy" coach next September when former USF-er Pete Matisi takes over Ram varsity football reins from outgoing Frank "Dutch" Meyer.

Matisi is a man of "rep" among Peninsula prep mentors. In two years as Serra High grid coach, Pete's Padres won 13 and lost only 5 games. And last season the Serrans were T-formation champs of the Catholic Athletic League.

Paul Braunreiter, another Hilltop product, was named as Pete's successor last week. Matisi's aide at Serra, Paul also is top caliber.

Big Job

Matisi will have a tough debut at Westmoor. The Rams will be making their bow in the North PAL—and it takes time for a new school to get rolling with the old crowd.

Report from San Mateo is that Pete will tutor T-tactics here, with just about two weeks to work with his young Rams before their practice opener September 27 at Willow Glen. Play starts for Westmoor the following Friday with powerhouse Capuchino.

Tony Giammona, W'moor P. E. department head, welcomes Matisi with open arms. "Pete is a fine coach, and I'm sure we'll come up with some good results."

The newcomer also will handle frosh-soph baseball as part of his duties here.

Good Player

As a collegian at USF, Matisi was praised as a solid post-war fullback. He assisted Jesse Freitas at Serra for five years, then took over when the ex-Santa Clara mainstay moved to College of San Mateo.

Meyer, the Nebraska U. traveler, nursed the Rams along last fall on a jayvee-dotted schedule. He developed some of the Rams' best prospects and knows that only inexperience will be their drawback.

Delucchi Swims In NCS Classic

Breaststroking senior Phil Delucchi, who finished fifth in the PAL finals last week, will compete this Saturday in the North Coast Section swim meet at University of California pool.

The Jeff standout, varsity captain for Joe McGrath, got the invite when Carlmont's Bud Collett took sick and announced he'd be unable to enter the Berkeley event. Collett qualified for the NCS affair with a fourth place finish in the PAL finals. Delucchi thus will be his substitute.

Diver Bill Magee, Jeff's only other entry in the PAL showdown, failed to catch the leaders.

Brisbane Sued For $18,559 Road Work

San Mateo county has sued Brisbane Water district for $18,559.18, fearing the statute of limitations would void the whole bill.

The suit asks $16,924.28, plus $1634.90 for five years interest for road work the county completed for the district.

Ram Yearlings Blank Blingum Via Reese, 10-0

Humiliated 15-3 by Carlmont last week, Westmoor's Frosh-Sophs thundered back Tuesday to blank Burlingame's yearlings, 10-0, behind the six-hit hurling of Rich Reese.

Third sacker Ross Holmgren paced the attack with a pair of singles. Other bingles were collected by Ed Walthard, Bill Dougherty and Paul Hanley.

Reese fanned six and walked four. Blingum's downfall was nine errors.

Carlmont smashed 14 hits off Bob Goodwin and reliefer Phil Fair last week. The Rams, getting only four hits, opened the dikes for 12 errors.

Bryon Van Alstyne's club is 3-5 in North PAL standings. South City leads the loop, with Carlmont in second spot.

This Friday the locals meet SSF in Warriorville.

TRIBE GOLFERS SURPRISE CAP WITH STANDOFF

Wayne Guisti and Al Harris sparkled to give Jeff High's golfers a 10½-10½ tie with strong Capuchino in a North PAL match Tuesday at Lake Merced.

The surprise left Mike Orlich's duffers with a 2-2-1 record, tying them for second with the Mustangs. San Mateo is on top.

Feature of Tuesday's duel was Guisti's win over Steve Opperman, Orlich's number two man last year and one of the better linksmen in the league.

The Tribe concludes loop action next Tuesday, hosting South City at Lake Merced. Then come the PAL finals in San Jose on May 27.

Gasmen, Shoppers Knotted For First

Westlake Richfield and Shopping Center are knotted for Westlake Softball League leadership today after convincing wins Sunday. Both are 6-3 for the season.

Gasman John Hood's four-hitter defeated Westlake Lodge, 5-1, while Bill Boyd did the tossing as the Shoppers thumped Val's, 13-9. OLM and Joe's were idle.

Play resumes on Sunday, May 19, with three tilts set for Westlake park.

DC Motorcyclists Compete In Vallejo

With two Daly City riders on the roster, the AMA will stage a four-star motorcycle racing program Sunday afternoon at West Coast Speedway, near Vallejo, on the five-eighths mile track.

The two local entries among a field of 100 are Bill Powell and Sherman Gray. First race on the 12-event opener is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Track Showdown

WATT ENTERS 17 IN P.A.L. WINDUP

Seventeen Jefferson High athletes shoot the works this Saturday in the PAL track and field championships at Stanford, with Coach Bob Watt nursing outside hopes for longshot efforts.

Watt figures several of his thinclads will be close at the tape, but cites three in particular who could be league champs. He tabs soph Felix Valdez (1320), junior Al Davila (660), and Gordy Tydingco (high jump) "most likely."

Valdez, who did his topper last week in the North PAL finals with a 3:21.8 clocking, and Davila, who posted his best of 1:27.5 in a dead heat finish, are strong B division threats.

Tydingco, a C standout, has the best jump mark in the PAL this year 5-4. He qualified with 5-1, and if Gordy is fully recovered from sickness, he may be crowned Saturday.

Other Watt kids who qualified last week, their events this Saturday, and best times:

Varsity — Sonny Martinez, 220 (22.1), Len Lamendola, 440 (52.5) Dan Miceli, 440 (52.7), Andy Estigoy, 880 (2:03, Jim Farley, shot put (49-3), Boyd Hillyer, shot put 48-10) Bill Martin, discus (125-3), and Jeff Chase, pole vault (12-3). B's — Arnold Pollard, broadjump (19-7½), and Carl Mecchi, shot put (43-3½).

C's — Gordon Kennedy, shot put (43-3), and relay team, Tydingco — Harvey Marsten — Howard Harton — John Margaroni (47.5).

Jefferson and Westmoor wound up dual meet action Tuesday as they were swept in all brackets by San Mateo.

The Tribe varsity lost, 70 1/6 - 46 5/6, the B's fell, 85 2/3 - 21 1/3, and the C's skidded, 54-23.

Ernie Ribera's Rams succumbed, 98-15, 79 2/3 - 35 1/3, and 56-21, varsity through C's, in that order.

Meyer Gets Hancock JC Grid Post

Frank "Dutch" Meyer, Westmoor High physical education instructor, today told THE RECORD that he will sign a contract to be head football coach this fall at Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria.

The ex-Nebraska grid star had announced his intention to resign as Ram varsity coach last month. He will be succeeded here by Pete Matisi, former USF player and current varsity football boss at Serra High.

Only in its second year, Hancock JC gained recognition this spring by taking the state junior college basketball championship with a perfect record. The school has a student population of about 600, Meyer estimated.

Besides coaching, Meyer will teach math and geometry at Hancock. His salary will be larger than his pay here, "but I'll be plenty busy," he concluded.
